

World Hang Gliding Championship 2010

(Green List; date: 04.01.2010)

Frequency usage is possible without any separate frequency assignment for the following frequencies / in the following frequency bands if the given parameters are not exceeded:

MHz	MHz	Channel bandwidth (kHz)	Power (mW ERP)	Radio application	Official Gazette
149.02500		12.5	500	short-range radio	Vfg. 1/2007
149.03750		12.5	500	short-range radio	Vfg. 1/2007
149.05000		12.5	500	short-range radio	Vfg. 1/2007
149.08750		12.5	500	short-range radio	Vfg. 1/2007
149.10000		12.5	500	short-range radio	Vfg. 1/2007
149.11250		12.5	500	short-range radio	Vfg. 1/2007
433.05000 - 434.79000			10	Short Range Devices	Vfg. 30/2006
446.00625		12.5	500	short-range radio (PMR 446)	Vfg. 78/2003
446.01875		12.5	500	short-range radio (PMR 446)	Vfg. 78/2003
446.03125		12.5	500	short-range radio (PMR 446)	Vfg. 78/2003

Important:

Under section 55 of the Telecommunications Act (TKG) each use of frequencies in Germany requires prior assignment. Unless a general frequency assignment has been issued, the Federal Network Agency for Electricity, Gas, Telecommunications, Post and Railway makes individual assignments.

Where frequencies are intended to be used for a short time only, eg for car races, sports events, concerts and trade fairs, short-term assignments will be issued based on a simplified procedure

If you use frequencies without a valid frequency assignment, you may be punished by a fine not exceeding € 500,000 under section 149 of the TKG.

So please apply your required frequencies at the Federal Network Agency.
